Regina Coeli Report

Number 263 May - June 2015 ∴

The Priest: Another Christ

This issue of the Regina Coeli Report is dedicated to the activities of chapels across the U.S. District for the last five months.

The winning photo on page three depicts a Mass being said at the Civil War battlefield of Antietam, MD in the Bloody Lane. During the battle men who died there lay stacked three and four bodies high.

At many chapels Midnight Masses were spectacular. Of special note is the first Mass celebrated at St. James Church in Pittsburgh, PA and solemnly blessed by first assistant Fr. Niklaus Pfluger on March 28. Our Lady of Fatima Chapel in Veneta, OR held a conference honoring the centenary of the death of Pope St. Pius X.

St. Ignatius Retreat House in Ridgefield, CT is also home to Christ the King Chapel and Padre Pio Academy. Crusaders from chapels in Minnesota participated in conferences and a day of recollection. St. Joseph's Church in San Antonio, TX has shared its history commemorating its 30th anniversary. March brought us St. Joseph's tables celebrations in many places.

Letter from the District Superior

Dear faithful,

We are happy to see Our Lady of Fatima's Pilgrim Statue coming to your chapel in the following months or years! It will indeed take almost three years to visit all our churches and missions. I am glad to have been able to launch the project conceived by Fr. Rostand before the end of his term. After him, "I entrust all our apostolates, in particular your families, your souls, and our schools to Our Blessed Mother, whom you will receive as a pilgrim in your chapels. She is the most powerful source of fidelity; she is the faithful Virgin!"

(Letter to Friends and Benefactors, July-August 2014)

This Fatima Apostolate, in the spirit of a crusade, should change our lives, helping us to spend every moment in accord with our baptismal vows. Our Lady is the one who can make it happen, because she is the Mother that God chose for His beloved Son and for us.

Chapels and schools, parish groups and guilds, recollections and conferences all aim to bring our souls closer to God and it is through our Lady's assistance that we are able to approach the Most High. The whole work of the Society falls under the providence of our Blessed Mother. Let us remind that the Society of St. Pius X is also named, by the will of our Founder, the Apostles of Jesus and Mary!

A visit from the Pilgrim Statue is an opportunity to increase our devotion to our Lady, to make or renew our consecration to her Immaculate Heart, and to improve our connection to the propitiatory end of the sacrifice of the Mass. This visit can change lives and it will!

We entrust especially to her protection our families and religious vocations. We lament having too few workers joining us in the Master's vineyard this year. According to the recommendations of Jesus, we must beg for more workers to be sent. May Our Lady present our requests to the Holy Trinity: "grant us many holy priests and religious vocations!"

With my blessings,

In the Immaculate Heart of Mary,

Oregon Celebrates St. Pius X

In November 2014, a dinner was hosted by the Holy Name Society of the Our Lady of Fatima Chapel in Portland, OR to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the death of St Pius X. Fr. Joseph Wood explained why Archbishop Lefebvre chose Pope St Pius X as patron, and Louis Verrecchio compared the ideals and form of government of Pope St Pius X to that of Pope Francis. Mr. Verrechio decided to address the stark contrast that exists between Pope St. Pius X and Pope Francis relative to each man's understanding of the duties that are incumbent upon the Successor of St. Peter.

To better understand the trajectory of the current pontificate, he referred primarily to the apostolic exhortation, Evangelii Gaudium, wherein Pope Francis sheds considerable light on his intentions.

In the case of Pope St. Pius X, he focused on an Apostolic Letter that was sent by His Holiness to the bishops of France entitled Notre Charge Apostolique, the purpose of which was to address a wayward socio-political movement that has a great deal in common with some of the currents running not just through various nations today, but through the Church itself.

Mr. Verrechio was delighted to expound upon the great treasure that is the pontificate of Pope St. Pius X in the light of Pope Francis' anthropocentric vision for the Church, concluding that all present were reminded once more that the remedy for every evil and error is ever the same; a remedy summed up well in the motto of Pope St. Pius X, Omnia Instaurare in Christo!

Events in the Northeast

St. Ignatius Retreat House in Ridgefield, CT hosted retreats in November for senior boys and girls from Blessed Virgin Mary Academy in Warners, NY. There was also a high school boys recollection weekend and a women's retreat.

In December high school seniors and families from Padre Pio Academy and St. Anthony of Padua Chapel in North Caldwell, NJ attended The Barber of Seville at Lincoln Center in New York City, followed by a delicious dinner at Carmine's. The Servants of Mary held a bazaar raising money to help a seminarian with his studies.

Weather was challenging in January. Despite difficulties caused by an ice storm, there was a parish Christmas party, an annual school family and staff party, including a bake sale, a men's retreat and a visit from the monks from Our Lady of Guadalupe Monastery in Silver City, NM. Fr. Matthew gave a brief conference on the Benedictine life of the monastery, and there was an opportunity to purchase some of their delicious Abbey Roast coffee beans.

Throughout February, the students of Padre Pio Academy were hard at work practicing for their performance of The Sound of Music Comes to America. It is an original production written, produced and performed by our students. Miss Angelica Mendes, parishioner, art teacher and high school administrator is the director. The play was performed in April at the Scotts Ridge Middle School in Ridgefield, CT.

How St. Joseph's Started in San Antonio, TX

Fr. Hector Bolduc had just finished saying Mass at my daughter's home on December 28, 1974, the feast of the Holy Innocents. He and the other guests were relaxing at a Christmas buffet supper when he approached me and said, "You seem to have a nice family, so if you start something here, I will come on a regular basis." My daughter had seen Fr. Bolduc in Houston that Christmas when, following Mass, she asked him if he would say Mass at her home in San Antonio. It was agreed, and that is how St. Joseph's was born.

Fr. Bolduc did not come every week, but would phone when he could come. Since the faithful there were starting from nothing, he would bring a suitcase with all the necessities for saying Mass. At first, we rented a room at the Holiday Inn and phoned everyone we knew to invite them to Mass.

Then Fr. Carl Pulvermacher came. This was a God-send because Fr. Bolduc definitely needed help. Fr. Pulvermacher was with us for many years. After 2 or 3 years of Masses at the hotel, an old house in the River Road Neighborhood on East Magnolia Street came up for sale.

Some very wonderful people came to join us. I have to mention them because I could not have succeeded without their help. Jose P. and Teresa Gonzales, of happy memory, were always there to help with everything. Then there was Gene Garza. He jumped in with both feet to help.

He and his wife were newlyweds, and although Gene was still in school, he spent what little free time he had looking for altar supplies. He found a beautiful monstrance at Wong's Antique Shop. We made an offer for it. Mr. Wong refused the offer because he wanted more. He was adamant about his price. Nothing budged him until Gene spoke up, "Mr. Wong, if you let us have it for our price, we will pray for you each time it is used." It was ours. When Fr. Bolduc blessed it, he added that each time it will be used, a blessing shall fall on Mr. Wong.

In the meantime, Fr. Bolduc told us to write to every parish asking for their cast-offs. We named our chapel after St. Joseph, since he is the patron saint of the Catholic Church, so I composed a letter from the Friends of St. Joseph asking for unwanted things to help missionary priests. We had an avalanche of supplies poured on us. It is incredible how many lovely things were being thrown out, including a beautiful chalice.

One Saturday morning Emily Chlebowski called me to say that Blessed Sacrament Parish was selling their song books. I went over there right away to find that the song books were not suitable but all the furnishings were for sale. When I told the pastor that I was helping missionary priests, he gave me the tabernacle which adorns our altar, the stations of the cross, the wooden altar, and two prie-dieux. We stored all this in our various homes until we could put it in the new chapel.

In 1978, our first Holy Week services were held at our new chapel. Albert Gonzales made the tabernacle still being used on Holy Thursday for the altar of repose. Also still being used are the clapper, portable lectern, and the stand for the Easter Candle made by Gene Garza.

Eventually this first chapel was sold and a larger building was purchased. After the purchase of the current chapel, Barney Kneuper and several men and women from the parish got together to install kneelers, and a communion rail. Mr. Glen Florence purchased the altar from St. Joseph's chapel of St. Joseph's Hospital in Kansas City, MO. The beautiful statues of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, St. Joseph, St. Michael, and the Infant of Prague were gifts from Emily Chlebowski, who brought them from Pittsburgh, PA. Fr. Bernard Fellay came to bless this chapel in the fall of 1985.

Eucharistic Crusade

Monthly Intentions

May: For Christian morality which is in peril

O my God and my All, in Thy goodness and mercy, grant that before I die I may regain all the graces which I have lost through my carelessness and folly. Permit me to attain the degree of merit and perfection to which Thou didst desire to lead me, and which I failed by my unfaithfulness to reach.

Mercifully grant also that others regain the graces which they have lost through my fault. This I humbly beg through the merits of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Immaculate Virgin Mary.

June: That priests zealously fill souls with the love of God

The priest who is moved by the spirit of zeal for the glory of God and the salvation of souls is not afraid of weariness, is not fearful of danger, does not consider sacrifices, does not indulge himself in comforts, knows no rest, does not trouble about repose. Though contradicted and persecuted he does not lose heart, because he knows that the heritage of the Church Militant is the hatred of the gloomy, and the greater obstacles he encounters the more there increases in him a burning desire to show himself a true Minister of God in everything, "in tribulations, in hardships, in distresses . . . in labors, in sleepless nights . . . in honor and dishonor, in evil report and good report . . ." [2 Cor. 4:4-8]
